

Abstract of the Disclosure

A system for the characterization of webs that permits the identification of anomalous 5 regions on the web to be performed at a first time and place, and permits the localization and marking of actual defects to be performed at a second time and place.